Dedication

MR. SHORES!

"The best!"

He's explosive...KA-Boom

"He teaches us in a fun way, you don't even realize how much you learned until you take the test and you know it all!"

"DEDICATED" -He is a strong man. He returned early after his stroke, he's amazing-

"I love him!"

"The Man"

"HE IS THE MOST DEDICATED TEACHER I'VE EVER KNOWN"

The C.H.S class of '09 dedicates it's yearbook to Mr. Shores

"Shores treats students as equals, not inferiors!"

"He makes class fun and exciting"

"He cares about all the students"

"He is just the best teacher I have ever had, and that's the truth"

"His class will always be my favorite; no matter what the subject!"

"He is always supportive of our class & he believes in us."

"Loyal to his students"

The past four years seemed like an eternity, but the friends we've made kept us from being alone; embarrassing moments have become our funniest memories and these crowded halls came to be our home. Goodbyes to our teachers, friends, and underclassmen. Senior year, we'll always remember, without a question. "Have the time of your life, It goes by fast". For the most part we've had a blast, our expectations were far surpassed, sad this year will be our last.

The strangers who became friends and who we grew to call family; even after all of the drama, it's bittersweet to finally be free. We signed our names on the wall, leaving a mark for all to recall.

Looking around, it's so surreal. Well, "we're kind of a big deal."

We wouldn't change any of it, the good, the great, the bad, the worse, it's all prepared us to face the world. These four years have brought out the best in us and now we're ready to leave CHS to the rest.

Remember

- All of the lock-downs involved dogs
- We were Freshmen and all the Seniors looked giant

- Robidoux won every game in gym by technicalities
- Everyone was obsessed with "That's what she said" jokes
- Senior show skit about B-Holbrook's parties

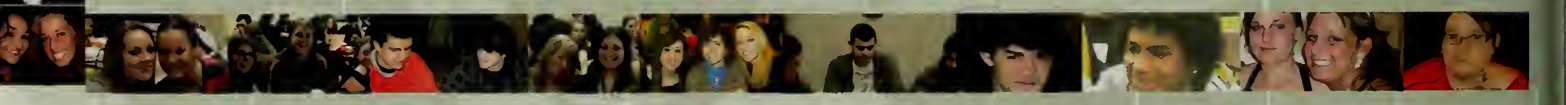
- "Someone" pulled the fire alarm and we had to wait outside in the rain
- Ms. Berkman took over for Mrs. Yung
- Coach Carey chewed us out at halftime and Coach A would give pep talks

- The cranberry bogs and sand pits

- Mrs. Sharon-Matthews broke her leg and everyone called her hot wheels
- Mr. Rooney would call people out of the lunch line for cutting just by guessing

- No guy would ever be caught dead in American Eagle or Hollister clothes
- Aurissa's crazy parties in the elements of the state forest

- Sam fell at the pep-rally and Brad rushed out onto the floor
- Everyone used to play manhunt



when . . .

Jon Davis crawled under the desks to steal Mr. King's shoes

Corey Ellis tried to speak Spanish in class but only ended up speaking English and Mrs. Spillane got very upset

Mr. Shores kicked the lab bench and had to get stitches

You got excited to come to school in the morning . . . Neither do I

Adam broke desks

Frac tried acting tough but couldn't hold back his smile.

The soccer team won the South Sectional at Veteran's Stadium

Beanblossom was 2%

The senior show show skit about Ms. Perkins

T-Bone was the talk of Mrs. Sharon-Matthews' class

Everyone copied everyone with the latest fad

We had an annual bomb threat

PEER HELPERS

Peer Helpers and Mediators belong to a program in Carver High School where students from grade 9-12 participate in activities to bring the student body and community together in a safe environment. Peer Helpers can be found anywhere from selling candy canes to showing a new student around school. Along with the Peer Helper program, the school also supports Peer Mediation. This is a program where students can help out other students who are having a problem and need someone to help. Everyone did a great job this year, and we hope you keep these experiences to help you in all your years to come.

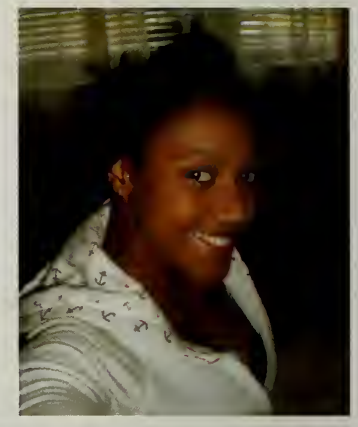
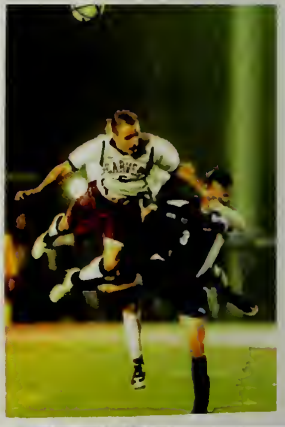
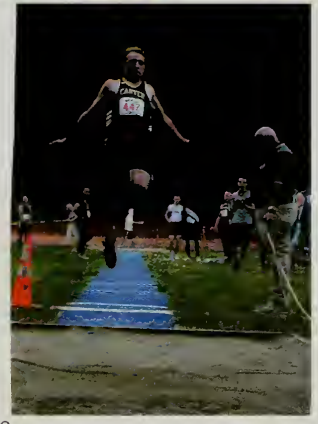
We've traveled a long road, my beauty!
Full of twists and turns, hills and valleys,
Now we are at the crossroads where I send you on your own into the world.
I'm full of many emotions but I know that you are strong and you will make it.
I have watched you grow into a wonderful young lady and I am so proud of you!
You will have all the success and prosperity that your heart desires!
Good luck on the road to your happiness.
I Love You Forever!
Mommy



Jared Spicer

Jared,
It's hard to believe how fast time has gone! We are amazed by your accomplishments and pleased with the young man you have become. You have so many wonderful things ahead of you. Think of every day as a gift and make the most of it.
Congratulations, Jared! We are very proud of you.
Love, Mom, Dad, Chris and Al





Lynnie Alberti

Lynnie,
From your first day of school to your last, we have shared many "firsts" with you. Through all the boo-boos, tears, laughter and joy, you walked away learning a lesson. This chapter of your life will soon end and a new one will begin.
Take your lessons of the past with you into your future. Cherish every moment and change things based on your principles. No regrets. Carve your way in the world and build the "house" of your life on the foundation you have. We could not be more proud of you.

With joy and a few tears
Our love unconditionally, Always
Your family
Dad, Mom and Bobby

Erica Stork

Kristen Cullity

Kristen,
We are so proud of all your accomplishments. Watching you grow up has been an adventure. You challenged and questioned everything, and you thought you had all the answers, which kept us on our toes. This perseverance and drive has prepared you well for the next stage in your life. We have nothing but confidence in your ability to succeed. Believe in yourself because "We believe in you."
We love you!
Dad, Mom, Stevie, Matthew, Megan, Karli, Boo and Charlie

Cameron Crehan

Cam, We can't believe it's Senior year and graduation is already here. The time has flown by much too quickly. We are so proud of all you have accomplished and especially the wonderful person you have become. That little young man you have always been is finally grown and coming into all the things that we knew were possible but never thought would get here. Well here we are, and the possibilities are limitless. You have always been an old soul from the day you were born and we have always known that the world would hold great things for you. Continue to be true to yourself. Live life with conviction, honor and faith, and always know that we love you and will always be there for you.

Love, Mom, Dad, Bonnie, James

You have laid a strong foundation and although the work ahead will be hard, the tools you have acquired will serve you well. New challenges, new friends and new adventures await you. Keep your focus and know also that your family holds you in high regard. We will always be your sanctuary. You have given us so much to be thankful for. Jonathan Davis

Jonathan, It's hard to believe that senior year is here. It seems like only yesterday you were getting on that big yellow bus for Kindergarten at the Ben Ellis School. Where has the time gone? One thing comes to mind with regard to living with you over the past 17 years. I wonder if you have finished asking all your questions? Since you were a little boy, you've had this never-ending quest for knowledge and this deep desire to understand everything in life. And you never settled for simple answers either. I am also puzzled by thoughts of whether or not you will still win over everyone's heart with your innocent smile and easygoing personality? And, of course "those dimples!" Living with you has always been a challenge. Your brother Justin and I never knew what to expect next. Your Aunt Karen claims that it is the Gemini in you but I think it's your endless sense of adventure that has been a major part of your being since you were big enough to walk. The one thing I love most about you is your kind and caring soul, and what I am most appreciative of is the fact that you felt the need to take over as "man of the house" at such a young age when your brother left for college.

The best advice I can give you as you continue your adventure in life is a quote by Steve Jobs "Your time is limited, so don't waste it living someone else's life. Don't be trapped by dogma - which is living with the results of other people's thinking. Don't let the noise of other's opinions drown out your own inner voice. And most important, have the courage to follow your heart and intuition. They somehow already know what you truly want to become. Everything else is secondary."

I love you very much and will truly miss your smiling face around the house.

Love Mom (and brother Justin, too).

Scott O'Brien

Scotty,

We have watched you grow up to be a confident, intelligent, and wonderful young man. You are a great son and an awesome big brother. Whatever road you choose we will always be with you. We are proud of you.

Love Mom, Alyssa and Brandon.

Congratulations Acacia

We've been friends since the day you were born. I hope you know that a day does not go by that I am not thankful and proud that I am your mom; I would never have changed one minute. While your peers were telling you of all the parties/mall shopping they were having fun doing you were living a life so surreal you knew it would be too much to share.

For seven years you have maintained a positive attitude, refusing to complain or give up through all that you have endured. I know how very much it hurt not being able to attend so many of the "cool " functions all while peer pressure threatened to silence that beautiful and contagious smile of yours. You have always amazed me with that smile so filled with compassion and love, ready to calm everyone else's fears of your situation. You never lost your sense of humor. You made it so easy for all the teachers, nurses and doctors to fall in love with you. We have been continuously in awe of your undeniable courage, strength of spirit, and most of all your "infectious love of life".

Acacia you are a true inspiration, a walking angel and a gift from God. I know in my heart that you can do anything you want to do in life as long as you always believe in yourself, never give up and don't follow the crowd just to fit in. Always stay true to yourself.

The entire towns of Carver and Middleboro believe in you. We have all witnessed your incredible journey. You are an inspiration to us all.

I love you all the way around the world and back again!

Love Always, Mom

Dear Acacia,

Never will this page be long enough to express the gratitude that you so deserve. The battle that you have been fighting for these past years is one that our worst nightmares could not even grasp. You are a true soldier who has come out on top. Even with everything you have been through, you have also managed to conquer four years of high school in only a year and a half. Your accomplishments, from surviving to schooling are nothing short of remarkable. Along with that, there is not a single person that could say that they have seen you with anything but a smile on your face. Your strength, your kindness, your pride, and your bravery are all things that will be honored forever. You, Acacia, are the prime example as to why no one should ever give up. So please take this page as our thank you for being you.

Always, Your Classmates of '09

Dear Kevin

Responsible, tenacious, strong -- any of these adjectives would not be sufficient in describing what Kevin Robinson is today. We all know his story, how he was diagnosed, suddenly, with a terrible disease, leukemia. He was forced to miss quite a bit of school as a result of this diagnosis and subsequent treatment. It is difficult for anyone to appreciate what this experience says about him as a person. It says that he is tenacious, that he is strong, and that he is a person who does not give up without a fight. Evidence of his strength can be seen in his current membership on the hockey team, where despite receiving powerful chemotherapy and other treatment, he still works out, practices hard, and shows an effort unparalleled by most. He has also taken up the challenge of academics when others in his situation might falter. He currently takes AP Calculus and exceeds in it -- an accomplishment not many can attribute to themselves. As time passes, it seems Kevin only grows stronger as an athlete, as a student, and as a person, and we, the class of 2009, are honored to have him among our ranks as we graduate together and move onto the rest of our lives.
